- Discover one of the finest collections of temples in South East Asia at Bagan
- Explore the beautiful Inle Lake

Trip Cost: $3990

The 167,800-ton, 4,180-passenger ship, set to launch in autumn 2014, will sail 7- and 8-night Bahamas cruises, 8- and 11-night Eastern Caribbean cruises and a 12-night Southern Caribbean itinerary, all from Cape Liberty in Bayonne, New Jersey.

Cabins

- ★ Rooms will be nine percent larger, on average, than those of the Oasis-class ships.
- ★ Room amenities will include modern touches such as USB outlets, larger storage solutions, and multi-functional furniture.
- ★ Of 2,090 cabins, 1,570 will be balcony, 147 outside, 373 virtual balconies (inside), and 34 cabins will be wheelchair accessible.
- ★ Family-connected cabins will offer flexibility for multi-generational families, connecting three different cabin categories to create a layout which provides separate bedrooms and bathrooms for each occupant. The layout provides shared space with the benefit of added individual privacy.
- ★ Studio staterooms will allow solo travelers to enjoy their space, inside and out, with 12 of the 28 cabins including balconies.
- ★ Loft suites will be the largest suite class, located across the stern of the ship. Quantum will also feature three junior suite categories with spa-inspired amenities, and a family junior suite featuring a full bath.

Quantum of the Seas is bringing out Royal's wow factor with firsts at sea including a skydiving simulator and North Star, a jewel-shaped glass capsule rising 300 feet above sea level and providing 360-degree views over the sides of the ship. Seaplex will become the largest sports and entertainment complex at sea, with attractions including bumper cars, roller skating, and a circus school complete with a flying trapeze. The adults-only solarium and outdoor pool will return featuring a brand-new indoor pool with operable roof. Other firsts pertain to new cabin categories: virtual balconies will dispel the traditional idea of an inside cabin, family-connected staterooms will prove more accommodating and studio staterooms with balconies will spoil the single traveler.

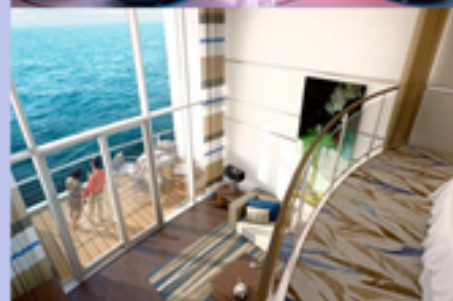

Activities

- ★ Skydiving at sea will be made possible with the simulator RipCord by iFly onboard both Quantum-class ships. Feel like you're flying with ocean views as far as the eye can see inside a 23-foot tall glass chamber for two one-minute simulations. A viewing platform allows family and friends (along with curious spectators) to observe your flight. Located on the outdoor sports court at the stern of the ship, you will be close to other signature Royal Caribbean activities, overlooking the FlowRider surf simulator and nestled by the rock climbing wall.
- ★ Rise well above the sea in a gem-like transparent pod called the North Star, for 360-degree views 300 feet above sea level over the side of the ship. Available both at sea and in port, this 15-minute experience will be located on the top deck towards the bow of the ship. While complimentary, three North Star premium packages will also be available for advance purchase, including private flights and flights during the most sought-after viewing times, expected to be sunrise and sunset. All packages will include a pre-flight reception, in-flight Champagne toast, commemorative certificate and a post-flight brunch or dinner.

Itineraries include:

- 7 or 8 Nights Bahamas Cruise
- 11 Nights Eastern Caribbean
- 8 Nights Eastern Caribbean
- 12 Nights Southern Caribbean

All departing From Cape Liberty, NJ.
